

Masaki Nakamura

Mr. Nakamura is a marine engineer and graduated from Yokohama National University, as a faculty of engineering, and joined Mitsui Engineering & Shipbuilding Co., Ltd. (Mitsui E&S) in 1982.

After he joined the company, he was assigned as a machinery outfitting design engineer from 1982 to 2001 in charge of designing Tankers, Bulk carriers, Drilling vessels, Gas Carriers etc.

From 2001 to 2014 he was engaged in designing large LNG carriers, both MOSS ships and membrane ships, FPSO, VLCCs as a project manager. After acquisition of TGE Marine by Mitsui E&S in 2015 he works for introducing products of TGE Marine to Japanese clients as a deputy General Manager of EPCS Business Section of Mitsui E&S.

Masaki Nakamura